* Prices indicated in Russian rubles, by request of the client we will provide prices in USD, EUR or other currencies. An accountable translated page is a page of translation made in the MICROSOFT WORD text editor, of 1800 symbols including spaces. The calculation of the total number of pages is made according to the symbols of the language into which the translation was made (languages using characters are an exception).

The price of the translation also depends on:

The level of “urgency” of the translation. If the translation is urgent, the price increases. The additional rate may be from 10% to 100%, depending on the required deadline and the complexity of the translation.

The format in which the material for translation is provided. Often not only ordinary .doc, .txt or .pdf files must be translated, but also various exotic formats, for example language files of interfaces of websites or programs, or even scans of handwritten pages. But our translators are not programmers and handwriting specialists, they only know one profession – although they know it very well. The more difficult it is to decipher or recognize a text, the more the translation will cost.

Language pairs. If the translation is made from one foreign language into another, then the rates will be combined. The translation from the foreign language of the original into Russian + the translation from Russian into the required foreign language. But this rule does not always apply, because our translators often know several languages, and are prepared to work not for a double rate, but for a special rate which is accordingly lower.

Volume of translation. The minimum cost of an order is one accountable translated page. If the order is over 50 pages, discounts are possible.

In any case, we are always prepared to hear and discuss your offers on prices. Contact our managers, and we will definitely find a common language!

Yours faithfully, APPSPb director
Viktor Sharshenidze.
